BY-LAWS OF THE FACULTY SENATE

ARTICLE I. ATTENDANCE AT MEETINGS.

Section 1. Opportunity to observe all meetings of the Faculty Senate will be guaranteed to the University President, a representative of the student government, a representative of the Bona Venture, and a representative of WSBU.

Section 2. It is the general policy of the Faculty Senate to open its meetings to all interested observers. It should be recognized, however, that occasionally there may be practical limits to the implementation of this general policy. In such cases the judgment as to if and how an accommodation will be made is the prerogative of the presiding officer of the Senate, acting with the Senate’s advice and consent.

Section 3. The Faculty Senate will meet with the general faculty at least once each semester.

ARTICLE II. CONDUCT OF MEETINGS.

Section 1. Regular meetings of the Senate shall normally begin at 2:30 p.m. and adjourn no later than 4:30 p.m. If the Senate has not acted upon one or more agenda items prior to the adjournment deadline, the chair normally shall call for the meeting to be continued at a later date, until which time the Senate will be declared to be in recess.

Section 2. Under normal circumstances the privilege of the floor shall be extended only to members of the Senate, to the University President, and to those invited specifically to address the Senate by the presiding officer at the meeting. Anyone seeking the privilege of the floor should petition the chair of the Senate in advance of the meeting. If a visitor has not petitioned the chair of the Senate or if the chair rejects the petition in advance of the meeting, the Senate must present and pass a motion to recognize the visitor during the course of a meeting. It is understood that all discussion is subject to Robert’s Rules of Order Newly Revised and thus may be terminated in accordance with the appropriate rules and procedures contained therein.

Section 3. Individual members of the community may be asked to address Senate meetings to offer advice and recommendations or to supply information in fields in which they have acknowledged expertise or authority.

Section 4. No verbatim recording of the proceedings of Senate meetings by mechanical or electronic means shall be allowed except by specific permission of the chair of the Senate with the consent of all Senators present.

Section 5. The chair of the Senate shall appoint someone to record the minutes of Senate meetings. Copies of the minutes shall be distributed to members of the Faculty, the head of the student government, the Bona Venture and WSBU. The reading of the previous minutes at Senate meetings shall be waived unless requested by a member of the Senate.

Section 6. The agenda for each regular meeting shall be finalized and circulated to the University community by 5 p.m. on the seventh day before the meeting. Any agenda items submitted after the agenda is published must include an explanation for why the item was submitted late and why it cannot wait until the next Senate meeting. Ordinarily, only items of business which appear on a properly published and circulated agenda of the Faculty Senate will be voted on during the meeting for which the agenda was prepared. Items of business which come to the floor of the Faculty Senate without having first appeared on a properly published and circulated agenda will not be voted on until the next meeting of the Faculty Senate. The chair of the Senate shall have the authority to suspend the effects of this rule should the situation warrant. The Senate may override the decision of the chair by a majority vote of those present at the meeting.

Section 7. Voting on motions will ordinarily be performed in person at Senate meetings, with no proxy votes allowed. Senators who are unable to be present at a meeting may participate and vote by telephone or other electronic means during the course of the meeting. Senate votes may be conducted by electronic means outside of a regular Senate meeting, but such balloting shall not be permitted if at least two senators object to the procedure.

Section 8. To pass legislative motions, a majority of the voting membership of the Senate is required. For advisory motions, a majority of the voting members present at the meeting is required for passage. In the instance of a motion to rescind a prior legislative motion, if the motion to rescind is made at a Senate meeting without advance notice (i.e. was not on the Senate agenda), two-thirds of the voting membership of the Senate is required for passage. If a motion to rescind a prior legislative motion has had advanced notice through the publication in the Senate agenda, then a majority of the voting members is required for passage. To rescind advisory motions, two-thirds of the voting members present is required when there is no advance notice of the motion to rescind and a majority of the voting members present are required when advance notice has been provided.

ARTICLE III. ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Section 1. Nominations for chair of the Senate shall be made from the floor, and an election shall be conducted by secret ballot under the supervision of the outgoing Constitution Committee chair; the candidate receiving a majority of the votes cast shall be the chair. Nomination and election of a vice-chair shall then be conducted in the same manner.

Section 2. The chair of the Faculty Senate and the vice-chair of the Faculty Senate may each be removed from office by a two-thirds vote of the elected members of the Faculty Senate. Chairs of Senate committees may be removed by a simple majority vote of the elected members of the Faculty Senate, at the request of the Faculty Senate chair. Committee members can be removed by simple majority vote of the Senate.

ARTICLE IV. COMMITTEE AND OTHER APPOINTMENTS.

Section 1. Whenever the Senate is requested to appoint a faculty member to a position or group other than Senate committees, such an appointment shall be made by the chair of the Senate with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Section 2. Normally the Senate’s consent to appointments, including those described in Article IX, sections 2, 4 and 5 of the Faculty Senate Constitution, shall be determined by an open vote, but should any member of the Senate so request, a secret ballot must be taken.

Section 3. The standing committees of the Senate are: Academic Standards, Constitution, Curriculum, Enrollment Management, Faculty Compensation, Faculty Status, Finance, Grievance, Student Affairs, and Technology.

Section 4. The chair of the Faculty Senate shall publish annually a list of Faculty Senate committees, along with the requirements for membership for such committees, to the whole faculty and request that faculty who wish to serve on one or more Faculty Senate committees submit their names to the appropriate Faculty Senate committee chairperson. This publication shall take place no later than one week following the regular April meeting of the Faculty Senate.

Section 5. A Senate committee that fails to fill all membership positions specified in these By-Laws may validly conduct the business of that committee, provided that a quorum is present at the time such business is conducted. A quorum for a Senate committee is a majority of the total number of voting membership positions specified for that committee in the By-Laws. [This definition of “quorum” is not intended to change the basic rule that a simple majority vote is required for approval of an action or choice by a Senate committee, where “majority vote” means more than half of the votes cast by persons legally entitled to vote (excluding abstentions) who are present at a regular or properly called committee meeting.]

Section 6. Senate committees may conduct business, including voting, electronically (by telephone conference calls or by e-mail, discussion lists, chat rooms, etc.). However, if at least two committee members request that particular items of business be discussed face-to-face and not electronically, then the committee may not conduct those particular items of business electronically.

Section 7. Business that is referred to committee shall be brought to the floor of the Senate in the form of a motion at the first meeting of the Faculty Senate following the meeting at which the motion was first referred to committee. In the event that the committee does not bring that business to the floor of the Senate at that next meeting of the Faculty Senate, the Faculty Senate shall take up that business in the form of a motion at the second meeting following the meeting at which the motion was first referred to committee.

ARTICLE V. ACADEMIC STANDARDS COMMITTEE: MEMBERSHIP AND FUNCTIONS.

Section 1. The membership of this Committee shall consist of a chair (faculty senator), four other faculty, one academic administrator and two students. This Committee shall be responsible for the conduct of elections, regular and special, for the Senate positions described in Article IV, sections 1 and 3 of the Faculty Senate Constitution. The Committee shall publicize this list annually so that the faculty may ensure that the list is correct before any elections are held. The Committee shall also oversee any other elections or referenda for which no other party is given responsibility under the Senate Constitution or Bylaws.

Section 2. This Committee shall be responsible for maintaining a file of the agendas and minutes of Faculty Senate meetings, and shall also verify that legislation passed by the Senate and subsequently approved by the University President and/or the Board of Trustees has been duly recorded in all appropriate venues (Governing Documents, University Catalog, SBU website, etc.) and implemented by the responsible parties.
Section 3. The designated deadlines for the receipt of nominations and election ballots shall be adhered to in the following manner: a nomination received after ballots have been prepared for distribution will not be accepted. Similarly, a ballot received after election results have been tallied will not be accepted. To be valid, a ballot must be submitted in a sealed envelope and the voter’s signature must appear on the outside of the sealed envelope. Also, ballots not submitted in the form prescribed in the Faculty Senate Constitution will be declared invalid.

Section 4. During the annual Faculty Senate election process, when the deadline for nominations has passed and the number of nominees is less than the number of open positions, the nominees will be designated to serve and faculty members will be invited to advise the Senate chair if they would like to serve in the remaining open positions. In the event that one or more faculty members express a willingness to serve, the faculty will be advised of this and will be given five class days to add other candidates to the list of nominees. Thereafter a balloting will be conducted or, if the number of nominees does not exceed the number of vacancies, the nominees will be designated to fill the open positions.

Section 5. Nominees for any position for which the committee is holding an election will be announced to the Faculty as they are received. Any nomination submitted after nominations have been closed will be considered invalid and will not be announced.
